

---

Subject: Re: Reading and saving a file

Posted by Giovanna on Wed, 26 Jan 2011 15:37:48 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On 26 jan, 13:22, Paulo Penteado <pp.pente...@gmail.com> wrote:

> On Jan 26, 12:48 pm, Giovanna <giovanna01.san...@gmail.com> wrote:

>

>> So, i'm reading a file, i need to extract data and save into another >> file, but is coming with strange characters.

>> In what format I save so they do not come up with these strange >> characters and that JAVA can also read??

>

> Where do you see the problem? In IDL, from what was read? In the file > written by IDL? Which characters are creating the problem?

>

> Generally speaking, any text files made in IDL should be easy to read > in Java, since IDL only natively does ASCII strings, and Java natively > uses Unicode.

I'm reading this file for example: <http://pastebin.com/ctHZC8wv> and when i save characters appear. See: <http://pastebin.com/HsQse0uy>

My code: <http://pastebin.com/eiAVywr1>

Thanks

---