

---

Subject: Re: Reading and saving a file

Posted by penteado on Wed, 26 Jan 2011 15:22:26 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On Jan 26, 12:48 pm, Giovanna <giovanna01.san...@gmail.com> wrote:

- > So, i'm reading a file, i need to extract data and save into another
- > file, but is coming with strange characters.
- > In what format I save so they do not come up with these strange
- > characters and that JAVA can also read??

Where do you see the problem? In IDL, from what was read? In the file written by IDL? Which characters are creating the problem?

Generally speaking, any text files made in IDL should be easy to read in Java, since IDL only natively does ASCII strings, and Java natively uses Unicode.

---