Subject: Saved Visualizations

Folks,

I had no idea how nice it is to save data visualizations.
It opens up a whole new world of possibilities! I just saved a visualization on my Windows machine, e-mailed it to my Linux machine and opened it up. Now I'm looking at exactly the same visualization on both machines!

Wow! E-mail one of these babies to your colleagues and they can be looking at exactly what you are looking at. And for teaching purposes! My goodness... My whole perspective on IDL has changed in the past couple of weeks. I don't think I will ever use a normal IDL graphics window again! :-)

Cheers,

David
