
Subject: Re: Floating illegal operand error when reach end of for loop

Posted by penteado on Tue, 08 Mar 2011 23:14:30 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Mar 8, 7:56 pm, Snow53 <jennifer_wa...@hotmail.com> wrote:

> Hey all,

>

> I'm applying the function mkstrend

(see:<http://objectmix.com/idl-pwwave/336583-code-kendall-trend-test.html>)

> within a double for loop (for row, for column). All is fine until I > reach the end of the loop. After the last row and column is processed,

> I get a "Floating illegal operand" error and my program crashes. The > same thing happens if I change the number of rows and columns I'm > looping through.

>

> Why is this happening and how do I fix? Thanks!

Without seeing your program and knowing at least where it crashes, we can narrow it down to almost anything.
