Hi

I run in some problems on a linux ubunutu system which should also operate without any network activities.

ifconfig finds the network interface where the license is bound to.

but the Imgrd does not start correctly. "Vendor daemon can't talk to Imgrd"

It looks like there are no packets send so that explains why it did not talk. But why?

If I start the system with a lan connection it works in most cases.

Any ideas?

Reimar
