
Subject: !p.multi and /t3d weirdness

Posted by Foldy Lajos on Thu, 05 May 2011 17:30:52 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi guys,

I am playing with !p.multi and /t3d and I do not understand the output.
Try this simple example:

```
surfr
!p.multi=[0,2,2]
for j=1,4 do plot, findgen(11), /t3d
```

I expected four identical plots, but got two empty plots, one truncated and one correct plot. Why?

thanks,
Lajos
