Well, I admit this is highly probably, but no,
this time the Workbench had exited normally.
I just noticed again yesterday that whenever I look for a recently opened file, it is never in that list. Maybe if I get a chance I'll do a more controlled experiment today.

I'm afraid the Workbench has become like that troublesome child who gets blamed for everything whether he has done it or not.

Cheers,

David
