
Subject: Re: Formatted printf output

Posted by Kenneth P. Bowman on Wed, 22 Jun 2011 14:15:11 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In article

<49155f70-81fc-4da6-8247-ea81b30d0f38@l6g2000vbn.googlegroups.com>,

Axel M <axelus@gmail.com> wrote:

- > Hi,
- > I am trying to print a list of numerical values into a .txt file to be
- > later imported by Excel. For this purpose, I want to change IDL's
- > output when printing from 2.35 to 2,35 (comma).
- > I was looking in the format codes in printf but was not successful...
- > Somebody has a clue how to do that?

You could write the file with periods and then use a text editor to convert all of the periods to commas.

Ken Bowman
