Sorry to start a complete separate thread for this, but my newsreader seems to fail when I try and to just do follow-ups or replies.

Anyway, regarding the Crimson user who found wierd things with Exp(-710.something), it must be an SGI/IDL thing. I use an Indigo and IDL 4.0.1 and I once spent a day (plus a post to this group) trying to figure out what appears to be the exact same thing. Now I'm real careful about floating under or overflows when doing Exp. This did not seem to be a problem with 3.6.1.
