Just to finish this off, so I can go get some real work done, I still don't know where the tex2idl.pro I had in my path came from. I have diffed it with the tex2idl.pro in both the IDL 8.0.1 and IDL 8.1 directories and the only apparent difference is that a number of FOREACH loops are commented out in the problem file and replaced by FOR loops. To an untrained eye it looks as though they do identical things.

In any case, I would guess that the version I had was written sometime before the FOREACH language structure was working properly. (Maybe this was from the IDL 8 beta. That's possible!)

Cheers,

David
