I am encountering an annoying problem using the cursor command in IDL 8 on Lion.

Enter "cursor,xxx,yyy,/wait" in the command line, and clicking on the window does nothing. The cursor routine never seems to recognize the clicking of my mouse (e.g., the "IDL>" prompt appears in italic font). I have to hit CTRL-C then click to get the cursor routine to release control (and the "IDL>" prompt then appears in roman font again).

Any insights to offer?
