On 11/13/11 9:28 AM, David Fanning wrote:
> Folks,
>
> I have a question about IDLDoc mark-up. I'm using version
> 3.3 of IDLDocs, and I am using the rst mark-up style.
> I would like to be able to include in the documentation > a "Notes" field in which I can place information about > an algorithm or the program that is pertinent background > information, but which doesn't exactly fit in other > categories.
>
> Does anyone know how to do this?

There is no specific field for notes/algorithm/background. I normally just make the first paragraph of the comments a basic description of the routine's purpose and following paragraphs about other pertinent details. For example:

```
;+
; MY_ROUTINE performs ...
;
; This routine uses the XYZ algorithm, discussed in ...
;-
```

Mike
--
Michael Galloy
www.michaelgalloy.com
Modern IDL, A Guide to Learning IDL: http://modernidl.idldev.com
Research Mathematician
Tech-X Corporation