Subject: IDL Java Export Bridge Wrapper save file restore
Posted by Brian on Mon, 14 Nov 2011 16:33:11 GMT

Does anybody know if after you create your Java wrapper using the export bridge assistant, is the purpose of the save file only used by the export bridge assistant for later updating if the interface changes?

I am trying to figure out how to deploy my application such that I have no source (.pro) files when the app gets distributed. I cannot figure out nor does the IDL documentation speak to how the sav files are used. I would have thought the bridge would do the restore, but it looks like that is not the case.

Any Ideas?
Thanks,
Brian
