
Subject: Re: Problem with the astron database on Mac OS X

Posted by rklein on Thu, 22 Dec 2011 19:00:23 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Dec 21, 5:40 pm, wlandsman <wlands...@gmail.com> wrote:

> On Wednesday, December 21, 2011 4:13:34 PM UTC-5, rklein wrote:

>> I update the library and the problems seems to be gone. But, let me >> investigate further.

>> Randolph

>

> I had fixed a problem with linked databases in dbprint.pro yesterday. But note the following:

Thanks, I will update my routines

>

> 1. The "linked databases" feature has not been used much, and I suspect that most of the remaining bug in the database software relate to linked databases.

I'll let you know if I have more problems.

> 2. I suspect that you are using YALE_BS catalog as a test database. I wouldn't recommend this 20 year old catalog now for most actual science.

True, I only used it here so that people can easily try to reproduce my problem.

Thank you,
Randolf
