
Subject: Re: Conumdrum -- Or What's a Newsgroup For Posted by David Fanning on Wed, 22 Feb 2012 16:59:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Craig Markwardt writes:

> Wait, if you forgot your glasses, how do you know how well you > played? :-)

Well, the guy told me I won the match. Since that never happens normally, I just assumed it was because I played well. :-)

I've promised my wife I will stop complaining about getting old, but this is a trial. Golfers must have this same problem.
Glasses just move the ball ever so slightly. It seems to take the brain an inordinately long time to catch up. Meanwhile, you just slightly mis-hit everything. In the league I play in, slightly mis-hitting balls is NOT a good idea. You're liable to get killed. Or, more likely, your partner will get killed, which tends to alienate you from the group even more than complaining about how old you are. :-(

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.idlcoyote.com/>
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
