Folks,

In addition to the changes to the Coyote Library I spoke about yesterday to accommodate GDL users, I have also fixed a small problem in where Brewer color table 24 was diverging. You can find the updated Brewer color table file here:

Just a reminder that you can now receive Coyote updates via Twitter:

 http://twitter.com/IDLCoyote

Or, via Facebook:

As well as via your normal RSS feeds.

Also, Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming picked up a couple of new Kachinglers this month. These small monthly micropayments aren't amounting to much financially at the moment, but they do greatly improve Coyote's outlook on life and make him much easier to work with! Thanks to all who are participating in supporting independent bloggers and web pages.

Cheers,

David
