

---

Subject: Type of array to store large numbers

Posted by Sir Loin Steak on Fri, 25 May 2012 12:50:21 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi all

I have a lot of numbers that have high precision (such as 401.4798584) and I am trying to find what sort of array to use to store these values. Can anyone help? I've tried floats, doubles etc, and none keep the precision to more than 5 d.p. Am I missing something obvious, or is what I'm after impossible?!!

Thanks in advance

---