Hi all,

I have a question concerning droplist widgets. Is it possible to set the active button of a droplist widget? The problem is, that I have a user menu containing a droplist widget (and some more); the user leave the dialog using the <ok> or the <cancel> button. But if the value of the droplist widget was changed and the <cancel> button is pressed, I would like to restore the old setting. Is this possible, or have I to use another widget?

Michel
