
Subject: Re: Determining Number of Active Windows
Posted by jdlb on Sat, 15 May 1993 02:56:01 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

kevin@dipl.rdd.lmsc.lockheed.com (Kevin Anderson) writes:

> Does anyone know how to determine what windows are open > at any given time? The system variable, !d.window, only > tells what the current window is. I need to know what all > the open windows are.

In IDL, you can use:

device, window_state=foo

The result FOO is a byte array whose ith element is 1 if window i is open, and zero otherwise.

--Jeff

```
% Jeff de la Beaujardiere % jdlb@mamane.ifa.hawaii.edu %
% Institute for Astronomy %      808-956-9843      %
% University of Hawai'i %      fax 956-9402      %
```
