I am using IDLDoc for my own small-to-moderate library of little helper routines, and I am running into an issue with properties and fields in an object definition.

They appear to show up fine, but they do not show up in alphabetical order. All the definitions and descriptions, both in the code and in the documentation section, have them alphabetically but as far as I can tell they show up in the resulting HTML in a random order. Is this something that anyone else has seen?

I am using IDLDoc 3.5.1.

Thank you!