

---

Subject: Re: HASH with case insensitive keys versus a new DICT class

Posted by Lajos Foldy on Tue, 11 Dec 2012 21:08:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi Cris,

On Tuesday, December 11, 2012 9:14:56 PM UTC+1, Chris Torrence wrote:

> Hi all,

>

> I've been toying around with adding support for the "." operator to HASH. So, for example, you could do the following:

>

> h = HASH()

> h.field1 = "my data" ; adds the key "FIELD1" with data "my data"

> print, h.field1

>

Why? What's wrong with h["field1"]="my data"?

regards,

Lajos

---