
Subject: Re: Select values from one array that match multiple values from an other array

Posted by liamsteele on Fri, 14 Dec 2012 00:24:09 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Thursday, 13 December 2012 22:05:35 UTC, David Fanning wrote:

> ljs15@fsmail.net writes:

>

>

>

>> Just noticed that since I removed the indices stuff, the 'REVERSE_INDICES=rb' bit isn't needed anymore. I knew there'd be something wrong! :)

>

>

>

> OK, and you didn't give yourself credit in the Modification History,

>

> but I'll fix that for you. :-)

>

>

>

> Good job, though. Thanks!

>

>

>

> David

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

> --

>

> David Fanning, Ph.D.

>

> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

>

> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.idlcoyote.com/>

>

> Sepore ma de ni thue. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

No problem. I've actually learned something, so it was very worthwhile! I'm trying to think of all the things I'll be able to use the histogram function for now! :)

Liam
