I use eXceed for OS/2 on a PC workstation as an X terminal to SGI and Sun unix systems running IDL. The quality of the eXceed software interface is sophisticated, and the X-server performs very well. I have encountered some setup problems, for the most part specific to my system. Hummingbird support is professional, and persistent. The support I can recommend whole heartedly. A neighbor of mine runs eXceed for Win95 and doesn't complain.
