Subject: Re: problems accessing Ken Bowman's IDL page?

I had mentioned in a Feb 12 post that Ken Bowman's web page no longer seemed to be a available.   So it has been unavailable for at least a month.

Last May, Ken wrote a post in which he complained about the high cost of an IDL student license, which had to be renewed every year.   I am just speculating, but perhaps this is connected the disappearance of his website.

Sorry, I don't know of any other site with copies of his programs --Wayne
