

---

Subject: Re: A possible bug in IDL 8.2.3

Posted by Xin Tao on Sat, 08 Jun 2013 07:07:34 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I expected it to behave in a normal way; i.e., the line of b should not go outside the box, since I have already set the yrange of the plot.

On Saturday, June 8, 2013 11:32:51 AM UTC+8, David Fanning wrote:

> Xin Tao writes:

>

>

>

>> I don't know whether this is a bug or not, but the behaviour of the following two lines is not what I expected

>

>>

>

>> IDL> a=plot([0,1,3],yrange=[0,3])

>

>> IDL> b = plot([-1,1,2],/overplot, 'g')

>

>

>

> What did you expect?

>

>

>

> Cheers,

>

>

>

> David

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

> --

>

> David Fanning, Ph.D.

>

> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

>

> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.idlcoyote.com/>

>

> Sepore ma de ni thue. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

---