Folks,

This doesn't have much to do with IDL, but my ISP recently made some changes to their service that is driving me bonkers. Basically, they put a new spam filtering system in place that as far as I can tell lets at least 40% of the spam through to my In box. These people are local and seem to be way more expensive than other hosting companies. This may be the final straw.

Is anyone thrilled with their ISP and would recommend them for both domain and web hosting capabilities?

I appreciate any information. If you like you can send this to me privately. I'll try to find it amidst all the Viagra commercials.

Cheers,

David

P.S. Now that I think about it, maybe they just mixed Coyote's e-mail up with mine. :-(
