
Subject: Software602, Inc.

Posted by Justin Morgan on Thu, 27 Mar 1997 08:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

602proINTERNET, automated LAN access to the INTERNET, software allows Local

Area Network to connect simultaneously to the Internet through just ONE modem dial-up or dedicated, with Firewall, WWW and E-Mail Clients.

<http://www.software602.com>

602proINTERNET is a communication software package for full connection to the Internet using dial-up or leased line. If you are a small business owner or an IS manager in a small to medium sized company, you have just found the software you need. 602proINTERNET allows a number of computers to access the Internet through one account. The product includes SMTP/MIME e-mail with clients for Windows 3.1x, Windows95 and WEB clients for Windows 3.1x and Windows95. 32-bits Mail602 INTERNET Server provides fast, high-quality delivery of your messages. Firewall SOCKS solves the security of your network. 602proINTERNET offers the possibility of using online access to the Internet for all users in your network simultaneously for the price of connecting a single PC.

What can 602proINTERNET do?

"SURF" the NET from any workstation on the network!

The user of each workstation on the network has access to WWW pages of any WEB site on the Internet. All users on the network can "surf" on the Internet simultaneously.

Electronic mail for each network user!

602proINTERNET includes SMTP/MIME e-mail with the option to send and receive attached files for any user on the network, regardless whether he is using Windows 3.1x or Windows95. E-mail has many ways of administrating the users' rights. Every user of your network has his own Internet address (i.e. "user@yourcompany.com").

Security!

Our firewall SOCKS solves the security of your network against access by unauthorized personnel. At the same time you may define access to WWW to selected users on your network. Security is solved directly at the IP packet level and this is why it is reliable.

Only one IP address is all that you need!
You save your money! Your full connection to the Internet using 602proINTERNET requires only one IP address for the whole network. You will connect your whole network to the Internet for the price of connecting a single computer.

Available for Dial-up and leased line connections, too!
The software package 602proINTERNET is great for Dial-up as well as for leased line connections. No more expensive telephone lines!

Software602, Inc. 6821 Southpoint Drive, N #113 Jacksonville, FL 32216	Justin Morgan Director of Information Technology
tel:(904)296-7700 fax:(904)296-9392	justin@software602.com http://www.software602.com