
Subject: Re: Resample (neighborhood averaging) a 3D array with missing data
Posted by lecacheux.alain on Mon, 02 Dec 2013 10:35:47 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Le lundi 2 décembre 2013 02:51:50 UTC+1, zhang...@gmail.com a écrit :

> Hello, everyone:

>

>

>

> I want to resample a 128x20000x32 (sample,line, band) image with missing data into a 32x5000x32 image, using neighborhood averaging over 4x4 pixels.

>

> The REBIN function cannot help, since it has no NaN keyword like MEAN; The "Average Arrays with Missing Data" tip in the "Examples To Illuminate the IDL Way" is for two arrays (http://www.idlcoyote.com/idl_way/smalexamples.html).

>

>

>

> The total amount of images is hundreds of gigabytes. Is there any fast solution to this?

>

>

>

> Thanks.

>

> Clark

```
resampled_array = mean(mean(reform(array,4,32,4,5000,32,/OVER),DIM=1,/NAN),DIM
=2,/NAN)
```

alx.
