
Subject: Re: Font size appearance in function graphics PNG and EPS output
Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 09 Dec 2013 19:51:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Phillip Bitzer writes:

> This is why I prefer EPS files as well, in general.
>
> But, if you're not tied to latex (specifically) and can use pdflatex instead, it handles PDF and PNG just fine. (In fact, there's a epstopdf package for just this sort of thing.)

I don't use Latex, obviously, and I very rarely ever use EPS files. I think because I have a nagging suspicion the bounding box IDL uses in EPS file is screwed up. Have you ever had any problems with this when working with EPS files?

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.idlcoyote.com/>
Sepore ma de ni thue. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
