Subject: Re: Problems with control the size of the lat-lon tick labels and the position of my colorbar
Posted by Andy Sayer on Thu, 12 Dec 2013 20:13:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Madhavan, please stop deleting your messages (it looks like you have done it twice today), it makes the discussion less useful for others looking back through the archives.

On Thursday, December 12, 2013 2:51:27 PM UTC-5, David Fanning wrote:
> Madhavan Bomidi writes:
>
>
>
>> I want to divide my plotting area into 2 columns and 2 rows and include this figure in the first column and first row. I was playing with almost all keywords basing on the descriptions for cgMap_Set, chMap_Grid, cgColorbar and still unable to understand properly what I am doing wrong in my figure?
>
>
>
> I put a new example program in the Coyote Gallery today that shows you
>
> how to create multiple plots, each plot with its own annotations, such > as color bars. You can find it here:
>
>
>
>
>   http://www.idlcoyote.com/gallery/index.html#MULTIANNOTATE_PL OT
>
>
>
> Time spent answering question and creating a new gallery plot: 2.5
>
> hours. Donations so far this month: $350.
>
>
>
> Cheers,
>
>
>
> David
>
> --
>
> David Fanning, Ph.D.
>

> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
>
> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.idlcoyote.com/
>
> Sepore ma de ni thue. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")