Subject: Re: Problems with control the size of the lat-lon tick labels and the position of my colorbar

Posted by atmospheric physics on Fri, 13 Dec 2013 14:47:58 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Sorry for deleting my messages. I have found solution to my problems and so I thought others shall not waste time in answering to my post.

On Thursday, December 12, 2013 9:13:17 PM UTC+1, AMS wrote: > Madhavan, please stop deleting your messages (it looks like you have done it twice today), it makes the discussion less useful for others looking back through the archives. > > > On Thursday, December 12, 2013 2:51:27 PM UTC-5, David Fanning wrote: > >> Madhavan Bomidi writes: > >> > >> > >> >>> I want to divide my plotting area into 2 columns and 2 rows and include this figure in the first column and first row. I was playing with almost all keywords basing on the descriptions for cgMap_Set, chMap_Grid, cgColorbar and still unable to understand properly what I am doing wrong in my figure? >> > >> > >> > >> I put a new example program in the Coyote Gallery today that shows you > >> > >> how to create multiple plots, each plot with its own annotations, such > >> >> as color bars. You can find it here: >>

```
>>
>
>>
>
      http://www.idlcoyote.com/gallery/index.html#MULTIANNOTATE_PL OT
>>
>
>>
>>
>
>>
>
>> Time spent answering question and creating a new gallery plot: 2.5
>>
>> hours. Donations so far this month: $350.
>>
>
>>
>>
>> Cheers,
>>
>
>>
>>
>> David
>>
>
>> --
>>
>> David Fanning, Ph.D.
>>
>> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
>>
```

```
>> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.idlcoyote.com/
>>
>> Sepore ma de ni thue. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")
```