A number of folks have written to me with comments about my SLICE program. I just wanted to alert you that it has been extensively modified. You can now produce GIF, TIFF, and JPEG as well as PostScript files. The program has also been made compatible with 24-bit displays.

The program is available on my web page:

Looking at my page counter, a number of you have been visiting and downloading some of my new files. Just a work of caution.
I have been testing the hell out of these files before I put them on the ftp site, but the trickster coyote keeps showing his head at the most inopportune times. Make a note to check back in a week or so and get the latest edition of the program.

(I have a great deal more sympathy for what RSI is going through right now, believe me!)

Cheers!

David
