Subject: Re: How to close 'failed' function graphics windows?
Posted by Matthew Argall on Thu, 01 May 2014 12:45:30 GMT

> I get an orphaned graphics window that I can't kill.
> How can I get rid of all these annoying zombie windows?

Can you try using the GetWindows() function, then destroy the windows object reference? It may be a problem with Refresh being turned off at some point. I have had a somewhat similar problem and this seems to work.