I cannot find the code online. Did the name get changed to something else (circle.pro)? Anyone have any idea on what it is and where I can get the code?

Hi Nitsorn,

I wrote spheretool, and apparently forgot to release circ.pro. I've uploaded it to my repository on github: https://github.com/davidgrier/utility/

For what it's worth, my group has started using a newer version of the holographic video microscopy code that's released in the lmsphere repository on the same github site.

TTFN,

David
