Subject: Real time computation?
Posted by Michael Wu on Tue, 29 Apr 1997 07:00:00 GMT

I am just curious if any one has tested that IDL is reasonably responsive to have interactive input. For example consider this scenario. The program is suppose to do 3D projections onto a plane. I am considering to have three slider widgets to denote the angle of projection (corresponding to rho, theta, phi in spherical coordinates).