On Thursday, July 10, 2014 10:00:51 AM UTC-4, David Fanning wrote:
> By the way, if you want to stop your PostScript file from being deleted
>
> when you create a raster file, use the PS_DELETE keyword to
>
> cgWindow_SetDefs or cgControl:
>
>
>
>   cgControl, PS_Delete=0
>
>
>
> Cheers,
>
>
>
> David
>
> --
>
> David Fanning, Ph.D.
>
> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
>
> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.idlcoyote.com/
>
> Sepore ma de ni thue. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

Oh, good to know. Thanks. I guess the moral of the story here is, I need to continually produce PostScript files when plotting to make sure what I'm creating looks good in a hard copy and not just looks good on the screen.