
Subject: I can only view my plot when I press control+c

I'm hoping someone can help me figure out this bizarre error. I am plotting density vs. radius and I have a plot and an oplot of different materials. The first time I ran the script I wrote, it worked fine, but now the only way I can see the oplot is if I press control+c while it is running. I'm not sure what to do or how to fix it because I'm not getting any error messages. Any advice is appreciated.
