Subject: Create an array of color name
Posted by changliao1025 on Fri, 02 Jan 2015 02:11:04 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I am using the coyote library.
I need to create an array of different color names.
Is there any convenient way to do that?
The colors should be best distributed across the loaded color table. I don't know whether it is practicable to name all of these colors within the color table. If not, what is the optional way to produce a set of distinct color names?