Hi,

I posted a question under the subject "another idiosyncrasy" yesterday and glanced through the replies this morning. Going back to look in more detail now, I find that the page won't load. (A "Loading..." message appears, but nothing else happens, even if I wait several minutes.) Can anybody tell me how to get past this, or, alternatively, pull out the contents? There were some good suggestions in the replies, but I can't see them.

Thanks.
