Hello all
I have a plotting routine that take 6 different files and plots them in an multigraphic window. Each plot have at least 10^6 points.
So when I try to do

p06.save, 'My Plot.emf'

the program never ends and I never have the file saved as I want to.

I was wondering if this is because the large amount of point in the plots, or because it is a multigraphic plot and I am only calling the save command to the last plot generated in the window.

Also , just to plot takes a long time, is this normal?

Thank you

Luz Maria
