

---

Subject: Re: PyQT widgets?

Posted by markb77 on Sat, 12 Dec 2015 09:44:19 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On Friday, December 11, 2015 at 6:10:26 PM UTC+1, Chris Torrence wrote:

> On Friday, December 11, 2015 at 1:48:27 AM UTC-7, superchromix wrote:

>> bump

>

> Here you go! This is using IDL 8.5.1.

>

> sys = Python.Import('sys')

> QtGui = Python.Import('PyQt4.QtGui')

> a = QtGui.QApplication(sys.argv)

> w = QtGui.QWidget()

> void = w.resize(320, 240)

> void = w.setWindowTitle("Hello World!")

> void = w.show()

>

> Notes:

> 1. I modified the Python example from:

> <https://pythonspot.com/pyqt4/>

> 2. I'm using Anaconda 3, which comes with PyQt.

> 3. I have no idea how to handle events. That's left as an exercise for the reader. :-)

>

> If you come up with more PyQt examples in IDL, please post them here!

>

> Cheers,

> Chris

thanks Chris! I will have a look at this - maybe I can figure out how to handle the events.

Is IDL 8.5.1 released?

---