Subject: Re: chrome browser update
Posted by chris_torrence@NOSPAM on Wed, 16 Dec 2015 02:40:10 GMT

On Monday, December 14, 2015 at 9:36:52 AM UTC-7, Nuno Ferreira wrote: > Sorry about this last message. I finally understood why the "olh_anchor_redir.html" text file was appearing - it was related with the association of the ".html" file extension in my computer.
>
> Cheers,
>
> Nuno

Hi all,

There's no malware - this is a bug that Chrome introduced - apparently they decided to clamp down on something related to namespaces, which causes all of those hyperlinks to appear.

We've been able to fix this in our help builds, but that won't be released for a few months.

In the meantime, I would suggest either using a different browser or using the online documentation:
http://www.exelisvis.com/docs/home.html

Cheers,
Chris