Hi wlandsman ,

Is this code reads the contents of columns or it returns the no. of columns to be read???

If it is the case then my problem remains unsolved because i want to READ columns from a file without knowing how much column does this file has. Say If I have infinite number of columns And I want to read 100th column how would I do that, shall I need to give 100 parameters in Readcol?? This seems tough to me.
