Hi all!

I am using a modified version of the h5_browser and the widget creation is way too long....

This is why I was thinking in duplicating the widget tree that contains the information of the HDF5 file. It takes a lot of time to create this widget and if it could be duplicated, it would save a lot of time in future calls to the program.

Another option would be to change the widget id of the parent and destroy the entire window keeping apart the widget_tree...

Is this possible? If so, I didn't find a way to do it...

Thanks in advance for your answers, suggestions or comments!
