Subject: Re: graphics issue since last Windows 10 update ?
Posted by Helder on Tue, 14 Nov 2017 11:12:23 GMT

On Tuesday, 14 November 2017 11:46:30 UTC+1, alx wrote:
> My Workstation was recently updated to the last version of Windows 10 (so-called "Falls Creator update"). Since then, saving to disk any kind of graphics lead to the following:
> - in BITMAP format (PNG, BMP, GIF, PDF/BITMAP), everything is correct when reading the disk file (i.e. looks like to the version on screen), except that any text (annotations, axes, etc...) is replaced by a black rectangle (as if the text background color was replaces by the color of the characters).
> - in vectorized PDF (BITMAP=0), the text is correct but any image is drawn in B&W with an incorrect aspect ratio (the image frame is not completely filled up by the image itself).
> Has somebody an explanation and, even better, a workaround ?
> alx.

Hi Alx,
not sure if it's the same problem, but look at the figures here:
http://idl.marchetto.de/problems-exporting-fg-graphics/
http://idl.marchetto.de/problems-exporting-fg-graphics-2/
The solution is here:
 http://idl.marchetto.de/problems-exporting-fg-graphics-tempo rary-solution/

I hope it helps.
Cheers,
Helder