
Subject: Re: End of Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming
Posted by Markus Schmassmann on Fri, 12 Jan 2018 16:28:12 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

>>>> I would gladly take a copy of the entire website as a keep-sake.
Do we have a volunteer to host a copy ???

On 01/12/2018 01:52 PM, Haje Korth wrote:

> Your web site as saved mu butt many times over the past decades > searching for solutions to my IDL problem. It would be sad to see > this valuable memory go away. I would gladly take a copy of the > entire website as a keep-sake. :-) All the best to you.
>
> On Wednesday, December 6, 2017 at 11:42:16 AM UTC-5, David Fanning > wrote:
>> It has taken me a LONG time to write this post. I've found it >> almost impossible to give up 25 years of the best job on the >> planet. I have so many wonderful memories of this group and of >> learning about IDL together. But the time has come for me to put >> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming to bed.
>>
>> I'll be taking down the Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming web page >> at the end of January, 2018.
>>
>> If anyone is interested in the web page, or in taking over >> responsibility for the Coyote Library programs, please contact me.
>> I get enough e-mails that I suspect it still has some value to a >> small (and decreasing) IDL population. If you have contacted me >> before about this and I have ignored you, I am sorry. It has been >> too painful for me to think about and I preferred denial to action.
>> Please contact me again. First come, first served.
>>
>> Again, thank you so much for the many, many wonderful friends I >> made in this community, for supporting me by scheduling IDL classes >> and by buying my books. My kids got wonderful educations because of >> you! I am grateful to each and every one of you who participated >> and contributed to this wonderful IDL community.
>>
>>
>> Websites: Coyote: <http://www.idlcoyote.com> Current:
>> <https://rawahranger.com>
