I have written an interesting program to create photomosaics (an image composed of hundreds of small images). Customized photomosaics sell for $60 and up, but you can create your own for free with this program! For more information and a sample photomosaic, visit Ronn Kling's shareware page at <http://www.rlkling.com/html/shareware.htm>.

Tried running the photomosaic program under IDL 5.2 (Win95) and got a restore error: Unexpected item code found in save file. I'm guessing this was sav'ed under an earlier version. I no longer have earlier versions on my PC so I can't try this. Any resolution?
