Well, you dug yourself in quite deep - so I cancelled my followup..
However, my draft included a statment along the lines of ".....is used by scientists, while engineers use..."

Now I'll stop.

Oh, Stein Vidar, it is s-o-o-o nice to have you back!

Finally someone who understands and can translate my supposedly humorous remarks. Any chance you can bail me out of this Matlab/PV-Wave mess I've gotten myself into. :-(

Cheers,

I think (hope?) David Fanning was trying to say "Stop using your secret decoder ring when posting messages". It produces messages that look like the one below, when viewed with any of the perfectly good news clients that don't do HTML.. I've taken the liberty to "destroy" the html tags in the reply to be sure that you see approximately how this appears on my screen...Pretty unreadable, right?

So, when posting to this newsgroup, I for one would very much like to see people turn off HTML formatting of their messages...

Also, I couldn't quite find any IDL stuff on the web page..?

Unfortunately, no. But it is nice to hear from you again. :-)

Did I miss out on something funny? Bring me up to date if you please. I am sitting here in Northern Sweden for the second month and really need some of David's humor to survive. I am not hoping to add anything worth reading to the newsgroup anymore :-(

Cheers,
Pavel

That is as unlikely as it will warm up above 0F outside here, I am afraid.

I know now. I read the Matlab thread. Oh, boy. I was so tempted to write to it. But it keeps growing at a scary rate even without me. I see you all folks are all on 5.3 now. My boss brought me a disk with 5.3 here, too. When I asked, what the key to the software is, he said "What key?"... Guess how useful that CD is to me now. The 7-min demo mode is still available, though :-)

Cheers,
Pavel

Whoops, sorry. I didn't want to step on anyone's toes.
I realized Sweden was different from Norway (especially after I had enjoyed that Oslo hospitality), but from where I live the "land of darkness" is anywhere "up there". :-)

Cheers,

David

P.S. Let's just say I remember trudging back from the University to my hotel room in the dark and drizzle about this time of year. :-)

Uhm. I believe Pavel wrote Sweden, not Norway... Might not be a big deal to you, but I'll let it pass just this once, since you called it
"the land of darkness" >:-)
