Hi all -

I've slowly eased my way out of IDL programming in the last year and am currently working in other fields. I haven't touched the FAQ in six months or so. Rather than let it die, I'd like to encourage someone to take it over. It is currently in a FileMaker 4 database, but there should not be any problems in reformatting it to something more suitable, such as Faq-O-Matic. I'll even reformat it and continue to host it if someone will actively care for and update it. Ideally, I'd like to see someone else host it, though.

Also, I replaced the OS on the server that used to run the FAQ over the weekend, so a new address has to be used to get to it. The following URL should work: <<http://cascade.ivsoftware.com/FAQ/index.html>>.

Please contact me directly since I rarely follow the newsgroup any more.
