Just a reminder to everyone -- if you don't know whether you can post or not, you should post to one of the test newsgroups (eg misc.test, sci.test, alt.test, etc.), and you will get auto-reply mail from around the world as several major sites automagically notify you.

Furthermore, if you don't know whether you can post, it's a fair bet you're new at this USENET stuff. It's a good idea to look in the newsgroup news.announce.newusers, which contains lots of goodies that Everyone Should Know (but No-One Seems To).
